VOL. 3, NO. 33. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

NOW IN OUTLAW LEAGUE

IT IS SAID THAT SEDALIA WILL PLAY INDEPENDENT BALL PRESENT SEASON.

CLAUDE EAST IS TO BE OWNER OF CLUB

Franchises Have Been Awarded to Six Cities and an Eight-Club Circuit Will Be Formed—Jack Sweeney Is President.

Is Sedalia to have a professional ball club this season? Judging from the following in today's Kansas City Journal, the outlook is bright. Here's the Journal's story:

It has come at last. Year after year, goaded on by the continuous poor showing of the Blues, the fans have asked:

"Why doesn't someone organize a first rate outlaw team in Kansas City?"

The answer was given yesterday afternoon at a meeting at the Hotel Baltimore, where the Interstate Outlaw league, composed of towns in Missouri and Kansas, was formally organized and plans made to have a team in this city.

The Interstate league was first planned to be affiliated with the national baseball commission, but the commission, of course, would not action putting another team in this city, so the new league broke away.
"Doc" Shively, who was elected as temporary president of the league, resigned when the promoters decided to organize as outlaws. Shively is president of another league, so that his occupancy of the same office in the new association was impossible.
Jack Sweeney, of Leavenworth, excatheter for the Boston Nationals, was elected president, and C. W. Brenne-son vice president. W. J. Hogan was chosen secretary.

The Kansas City club will be owned by L. J. Galbraith. Option has been secured on several sites that could be used for a park, and construction of bleachers will begin soon. The directors would not make it known last night where the park would be located, but said that it would be in the northern part of the city.

The other cities that have already joined the league are Kansas City, Kan., Leavenworth, Kan., Atchison, Kan., St. Joseph, Mo., and Sedalia.
Mo. Two other towns will be taken from the following list: Moberly, Mo., Ottawa, Kan., Iola, Kan., Nevada, Mo., and Maryville, Mo. A committee composed of Jack Sweeney and Claude East will travel around to the towns which want to go in this week and select two of them.

A complete schedule of 140 games will be played, Sundays being utilized. Negotiations are on with several big league players for contracts.
There will be no salary limit.

C. W. Brenneison is manager of the Kansas City, Kan., team. President Sweeney of the Leavenworth team, Claude East of the Sedalia team, L.
C. S. Martz, of Atchison, and O. S.
Kennedy of St. Joseph. B. E. Gossard wishes to put in a team at Lawrence, and F. Misbaum at Maryville.

The placing of the outlaw team in Kansas City means war with the American association and all organized baseball, but the Interstate league thinks the game is worth the candle.
W. J. Hogan, secretary, said last night that no effort would be spared to give Kansas City the very best arrangement of ball. Competition should react on the A. A. team and the fans should profit of the owners' loss a little.

THE LEMP CASE IS "ON"

Taken Up Before Judge Hitchcock in St. Louis, Today.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—The suits which William Handlan Lemp and her husband, William J. Lemp, jr., filed against each other, came to trial today before Judge Hitchcock.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

That of Mrs. August Voigt at Houstonia Sunday Night.

Mrs. August Voigt, wife of August Voigt, a hardware dealer at Houstonia, died at 9 o'clock Sunday night, following child birth.

Mrs. Voigt was taken ill at the hour stated, and Dr. Parkhurst was called.

The patient was relieved, and the doctor returned home. A few minutes later Mrs. Voigt began to sink. The doctor was again hastily summoned, but before he arrived at the patient's bedside she had passed away from heart failure.

The child is living, as are two other older children. Mrs. Voigt was the daughter of Mrs. William Benning, who lived with her daughter.

The funeral services will be held in Sweet Springs at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Jack Roberts Has Smallpox.

"Jack" Roberts, 705 East Fifteenth street, has developed a case of small-pox, and is being attended by city physicians. The attack is reported to be a mild one.

WANT TO COMPROMISE

REPUBLICANS IN THE HOUSE ARE IN A TERRIBLE QUANDARY.

THE NEGRO CLERKS ARE ALL THE CAUSE

Majority Want to Do Away With Them, but Fear That the Colored Brother Will Retaliate at the Polls.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Jefferson City, Feb. 8.—White bill clerks for democratic members.

That is the solution of the negro problem in the legislature that the committee on clerical force will offer in the form of a report when the house convenes at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Such an arrangement was made necessary when the democratic members refused to go to the bill rooms as long as the four negroes now employed were in there. In order to mollify the minority and yet conciliate the colored republicans, the committee arranged this morning to employ two white men for the house bill room. Some difficulty was encountered in getting white men to work with the negroes, but two were finally found who would not mind the contact. It was arranged to alternate the negro force, two working at a time.

It is not positive that this compromise will be satisfactory to the democrats. Many of them have said that they will not be content until every negro clerk in the capital has been discharged. At any rate, the clerical committee, which has been on the anxious seat since the outbreak Friday, will endeavor to make the arrangement satisfactory to the aroused democratic members.

PROGRAM OF MUSIC TONIGHT

There Will Also Be Refreshments at Y. M. C. L. Room.

The gospel service conducted at the Y. M. C. L. room yesterday in the Hoffman building was enjoyed by everyone present. Twenty-seven men listened to a helpful talk by Rev. D.
M. Clagett.

The music is good to listen to, as the men sing with a vim. It is an inspiring part of the service.

These Sunday services will be held weekly, and from indications they promise to be a popular part of the Y. M. C. L. work. The attendance at these services is increasing.

Tonight there will be a musical program, given by men for men only, and it will be held in the Y. M. C. L. room at 8:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served during the evening. All is absolutely free to all men. The room will be open at 7:30 p. m. Come and have a good time tonight.

The Keys-Fischer Wedding.

The Democrat-Sentinel is in receipt of a letter telling of the marriage of Mrs. Josie Stephens Fischer, widow of Adam Fischer, of this city, to Mr.
Jay Burton Keys, of New York city, on January 31.

The ceremony was performed at the home of a sister of the bride, 114 South Center street, Chicago, Ill., and 5499 Calumet avenue, Chicago, is now the home of the couple. Mr. Keys is the buyer for a large department store in Chicago, and commands a fine salary. Mrs. Keys has many friends in Sedalia and also in Cooper county, who will join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending congratulations.

Mrs. Bond Is Ill.

Mrs. J. G. Bond is seriously ill at her home, under the care of Dr. E. F.
Staats. She is threatened with pneumonia.

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 8.—Dr. B.

Moberly, Mo., and Mrs. W. P. Camp-and paid fines in police court Sat-

WILL BUILD TO DENISON

FRENCH CAPITAL TO FINISH MISSOURI-OKLAHOMA AND GULF LINE.

EXTEND TO KANSAS CITY AT EARLY DATE

Foreign Financiers Coming West to Consider Feasibility of Further Railroad Investment in This Country.

Muskogee, Ok. Feb. 8.—Backed by financiers in France, the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad, which has just been completed between Wagoner and Calvin, will immediately be extended to Denison, Texas.

In addition to this it is probable the road will also be extended north from Wagoner to Kansas City.

The road as it now stands was constructed with money furnished by the sale of $3,000,000 worth of bonds to the France-American and Societe Centrale de Province banks of Paris, and has been accepted and will be formally delivered over to the French financiers within the next ten days.

A cablegram was received here Saturday by President William Kenefick, notifying him that the French financiers now want the entire bond issue of $5,000,000, and will complete the road from Wagoner to Denison.
He will sail for Paris within the next ten days to complete the negotiations.

It is also announced in the cablegram that several of the financiers interested will come here at once to investigate the feasibility of continuing the line from Wagoner to Kansas City. President Kenefick departed last night for Kansas City, and will then proceed to New York.

The building of the road was commenced in 1903. William Kenefick secured financial backing from the France-American and Societe Centrale de Province banks of Paris.

The two French banks pro-rated the sale of bonds among the banks of their control for the building of the road between Wagoner and Calvin, and took an option on the purchase of additional bonds for the extension of the road, ninety-two miles further south to Denison, and north from Wagoner to Kansas City. The option was to expire on March 31, 1909.

"FOR PERSONAL LIBERTY"

German-Americans Pass Resolutions to That End.

At a meeting of the Missouri branch of the National German-American alliance at the Eagles' hall, in the Smith & Cotton building, Sunday, committees were appointed to draft resolutions to be presented to the legislators with a view of curtailing legislation which restrains the enjoyment and pleasures of law-abiding citizens of Missouri.

This action was possibly taken in anticipation of an attempt at statewide prohibition in 1910.

The entire session was devoted to the drafting of resolutions in German, which will be translated into the English language and presented to the state legislature by the legislative committee appointed at the meeting Sunday.

A committee of ways and means was also appointed before the meeting adjourned during the afternoon.

MAKE THEM CRACK DOWN

GOVERNOR HADLEY SEEKS THE REGULATION OF ALL MIS-SOURI MONOPOLIES.

SAWS, "BETTER TO CURB THAN DESTROY"

Expected State's Chief Executive Will Send a Special Message to the Legislature Within Next Few Days.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—It is probable that within the next few days Governor Hadley will transmit to the legislature a message asking for legislation to regulate the prices charged by monopolies.

"A rigid enforcement of the antitrust laws of Missouri," he said, in discussing that latter, "would drive fully one-third of the business enterprises doing business of one kind or another out of existence."

He declared there are monopolies that it is better to control than to destroy, and through business channels certain commodities naturally drift into a monopoly, to destroy which would cause the public to suffer.

Though it was thought he had the Standard Oil company's dilemma in mind, the governor referred to that company only briefly.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR GAS?

There May Be Something Doing on the McCormick Ground.

Mr. J. G. McCormick, who reported a peculiar disturbance in a bored well on his premises at 1215 South Carr avenue in the Democrat-Sentinel of Sunday morning, says that the noise produced is not near so distinct today as it was on Saturday. Instead the noise now is about like that made by a bumble bee.

He also states that when the lid is removed there is a distinct smell of gas, which has convinced him that probably a small pocket had broken into the tubing of the well and was being exhausted.

Several who read of the incident in the Democrat-Sentinel believe there is a good prospect of gas on the premises of Mr. McCormick, and further believe that Sedalia ought to get busy and investigate.

THAT REMOVAL RUMOR

Why the Katy Telegraph Department Is to Quit Sedalia.

The rumor that the general headquarters of the M., K. & T. telegraph system is to be moved from Sedalia to Denison, Tex., effective on March 1, written of in Sunday's Democrat-Sentinel, now seems to be a fact.

The change is to be made, so it is understood, in order to comply with the laws of Texas, which require that one official of every department of all railroads operating in the Lone Star state maintain an office in that state.

Under the existing circumstances, the M., K. & T. management deems it advisable to move the offices there instead of establishing a branch office.

Death of L. J. Hesner.

L. J. Hesner, of three miles north of Beaman, died of pneumonia and typhoid fever at his home at 9:50 o'clock Sunday night, aged 67 years.
He leaves a wife and eight children.
Funeral services will be conducted at Union church tomorrow noon and burial will be made near by.

TWO DIE IN STREET DUEL

JOHN HUGHES AND GEO. KETCHI-CLIDE SLAY EACH OTHER AT LEADWOOD.

PISTOL FIGHT IN THE OPEN ON SABBATH

Aggressor Is Instantly Killed, and Opponent, Four Times Shot, Lives Only 20 Minutes—Widow in Case.

Bismarck, Mo., Feb. 8.—John Hughes, of this place, aged 21, and George Ketchiclide aged 26, of Lead-wood became involved in a shooting affray at Leadwood Sunday morning, in which a number of shots were fired and both men were killed outright. They were sons of well to do farmers and unmarried.

Ketchiclide was the aggressor. He had been at the postoffice and started trouble. He went from the postoffice to the Baptist church and created a disturbance. From there he started to the Huffman lead mill. He met young Hughes on the street, and as the men had previously had a trivial disagreement sharp words were exchanged and the street duel began.

Ketchiclide shot Hughes four times, twice in the limbs and once in the body and between the eyes.
Hughes fired three shots into Ketchiclide, all of which took effect, the last one killing him instantly.
Hughes lived twenty minutes.

Justice Adams impaneled a coroner's jury, the verdict of which was that each man came to his death by a gunshot fired by the other party.

Mrs. Adams, a widow, over whom the duel was fought, saw it from a window of her home. She became hysterical, and it was some time before she could tell a coherent story of the tragedy.

The trouble which led to the shooting was an old quarrel. Both men had wooed Mrs. Adams for many months and each had made threats against the other. It was known to their friends that there was enmity between them. Both were known in Leadwood as dangerous men.

MRS. J. N. DALBY'S CLASS

Eighteenth Anniversary Celebrated Sunday.

Sunday school class No. 13, of the First Christian church, under the tutorship of Mrs. J. N. Dalby, celebrated its existence of eighteen years at the church Sunday, and its record is one of the most favorable of any similar class in the city.

For the past eighteen years Mrs.
Dalby has been instructing the class, and during that period has enrolled a total membership of 187, having started with two pupils.

Since the institution of the class fifty-four of its members have become benedictines, and all the present members of the class still cling to their original faith.

The present active membership of the class is nineteen, all of whom were present Sunday, except two, one of whom is ill.

Sunday an offering of $19.50 was made, while during the past year offerings were made as follows:

Offerings for year, $52.27; special Easter offering, $15.50; birthday offerings, $3.21; orphans' home offerings, $5 per year for five years; total offerings for year, $75.98; total offerings for the past sixteen years, $1, 057.55.

TWO DEATH MESSAGES

Received by W. E. McBride, a Missouri Pacific Employee.

W. E. McBride, a Missouri Pacific sheet metal worker, employed at the new shops and boarding and rooming at 212 East Third street, received a telephone message Saturday night appraising him that his wife had given birth to twins at their home in St.
Louis.

Less than ten minutes later a telephone message from St. Louis apprised Mr. McBride that one of the babies had died.

Less than six hours later a telegram reached Mr. McBride from De Soto, Mo., telling him of the death of his father at that place.

He left at once for St. Louis and from there will go to De Soto.

POSSIBILITIES OF AMERICA.

To find more food for future Americans we must discover America. We used to think that this had been done for us some four centuries ago by Christopher Columbus. But suppose that Columbus left the work uncompleted; suppose that as much more remained to be discovered.

At the present time, says a writer in Success Magazine, Americans are getting their food and the food of millions of Europeans and Asiatics from 841,000,000 acres of arable land.
We are going to find another 841,000-000 acres. Not in Canada. It may happen in the coming century that Canada and the United States will unite in a newer nation, so that the wheat fields of Alberta and Manitoba may be ruled by the same laws as those of Minnesota and the Dakotas. But apart from Canada, apart from any geographical extension of the United States, we are going to increase our productive area.

We shall trench upon the desert, we shall frigate upon the one hand and plough the unwatered desert upon the other; we shall reclaim our swamp-covered lands and turn useless into productive soils. Most important of all, we shall turn lands of small productive into large productive capacities.

If without any great increase in capital and labor we double the amount of wheat and corn and oats and fruits and meats and cotton that can be grown upon our 841,000,000 acres, shall we not in effect be adding a new 841,000,000 acres to our area?
Shall we not by taking thought add to our stature?

A NATIONAL MEMORIAL HIGH-WAY.

During the debate in the senate on the proposed construction of a Lincoln memorial highway from Washington to Gettysburg, Senator Bacon, of Georgia, banteringly suggested that a better plan would be to build the highway from Washington to Richmond. The Atlanta Journal takes up the suggestion seriously, saying:
"What Senator Bacon has said in humor we wish to repeat in seriousness. The idea of building this proposed road between Washington and Richmond suggests a welding of the sections, a bridging of the bloody chasm, a pledging of enduring fraternity and good will. Mr. Lincoln himself was of southern birth; and, if any section of the country offers superior inducements at this time to road development, it is the area south of the Potomac river."

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican in endorsing the views of the southern paper says that clearly if a high way memorial to Lincoln is to be established, a Washington-Richmond road must be considered more appropriate. It certainly would unite the capitals of the two sections of the war in which Lincoln was the guiding spirit on the northern side; and as the Atlanta paper says, it would be emblematic of the welding of these sections on the basis of freedom, which was the great purpose of the conflict as finally led by Lincoln. He made no immortal speech at Richmond, but he went there or into that vicinity more times than he ever went to Gettysburg, and it was in that direction that the storm of war was generally to be watched. Such a road would run close by many battlefields, and every inch of its ground would be historic of the great sectional struggle.

Civil service reformers have no reason to be displeased with the working out of the merit system. Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou rose to his present position from the ranks of the classified stenographers, and F.
H. Hitchcock, whom Mr. Taft is reported to have selected for postmaster general, began his government employment in the department of agriculture, and rose by merit to an assistant postmaster generalship. The ideal toward which this is tending is that the government service shall offer a career to a young man, independent of partisan politics of political "pull."

The house committee on territories reports a bill providing separate statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. There is no reason why it should not pass. Although neither of the proposed commonwealths could take rank with Oklahoma in the sisterhood of states, both are very much in advance of Nevada, which has been a full fledged member of the Union for more than a generation.

The head of Lincoln will probably

A bust of Cleveland will be on the sight of Lincoln now and then and with Cleveland, but good by, General Grant, and God bless you!

THE GROCER*HASKELL DECISION TODAY

It is Expected in the Case of Scott MacReynolds.

Guthrie, Ok., Feb. 8.—It is expected that Judge Strang will hand down his decision today in the case of Scott MacReynolds, arrested by order of Governor Haskell, while he was collecting evidence for William R.
Hearst in defense of the governor's charges of libel.

MacReynolds is charged with trying to defame Governor Haskell's character. At the hearing, Henry Asp, representing the governor, made a plea against dragging the name of the governor through the mire.

Charles Ames, for the defense, attacked the motives of the governor in bringing the action against MacReynolds and said there was not the slightest foundation for the arrest of MacReynolds.

THE SON OF A CLERGYMAN

RICHARD WATSON GILDER, EDI-TOR OF THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

WAS BOTH SOLDIER AND RAILROADMAN

His First Experience As a Writer Was
As Correspondent and Later Managing Editor of Newark Advertiser.

New York, Feb. 8.—Among the many famous Americans who selected New Jersey as their birthplace, not the least notable is Richard Watson Gilder, editor of the Century, and sometimes called the unofficial poet-laureate of America, who was born in Bordentown on February 8, 1844, and is today celebrating the 65th anniversary of his birth.

Mr. Gilder was the son of a clergyman, the Rev. William H. Gilder, who conducted a seminary at Flushing, Long Island, where the budding poet received his education. It may be op-portunely to note here that more pretentious educational institutions have since honored the editor and poet by degrees, among them Harvard, Princeton, Wesleyan and Yale.

Before taking up the pen as a profession, Mr. Gilder was both a soldier and a railroad man. He was a private in Landis' Philadelphia battery in the emergency campaign in Pennsylvania in 1863, and in the following year entered into railroad service, with a view of making it his life work.

His first experience as a writer was as correspondent and later managing editor of the Newark Advertiser.
Later, with Newton Crane, he established the Newark Register. It was not long until his genius was recognized by the publishers of the metropolis, and he went to New York to become the editor of Hours at Home, a monthly magazine. In 1870 he climbed another rung of the ladder of fame by assuming the managing editorship of Scribner's Monthly.
Since 1881 he has been editor-in-chief of the Century, and has written many volumes of verse that have given him a foremost position among American poets.

His collected poetical works have recently been published in a single volume, containing the accumulation of nearly forty years. Of this collection and of Mr. Gilder's place in American literature the New York Times Saturday Review says:

"Mr. Gilder has been so long the poet of patriotic occasions and of humanitarian causes; he is so familiar to the public eye as the celebrant of the nation's heroes and exemplars of civic virtue, that he owns a sort of official laureateship. And as the familiar friend of so much that is best in the city where he has served so long as editor there are few eminent in his loftier arts or higher life to whom he has not paid his tribute of song. Thus the poet gives of what he has to his country and society. In such coin, one may say, he pays the tax which is levied upon his special talent."

"Mr. Gilder as poet of good citizenship is strongly represented here in the nature of things. Nevertheless, among the pieces for several excellent occasions, sincere, pleasing, full of appreciation for the fine and good, yet poetry once removed, for all that, because they are pieces for occasions and not spontaneous welcomings up of a simple passion for life and beauty, are other pieces in which that spontane-ousness appears—when Mr. Gilder is the poet merely."

"For instance, the 'Prelude' to 'The New Day' describes the dawn over the water as only men can have known it who have eyes to see, ears to hear, and imaginations to thrill, and the same quality runs through the various 'interludes' which follow and break the monotony of the love theme which runs through the great pieces which fill up that part of the collection."

"Mr. Gilder as a poet of that purely human person is less spontaneous—one smells the lamp of inner reading

HADLEYS PLAY ON THE LAWN

Governor's Children Carry Out Slogan of the Campaign.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—"Let the children play on the lawn" was a republican campaign slogan last fall.

Sunday the Hadley children, taking advantage of the spring-like afternoon, did scamper about the lawn.
John, 8 years old, engaged in a game of bean bag with friends, while Henrietta, 6, and Herbert, jr., 4 had lots of fun with their toy wagon, a little lot of about their own age joining in the sport.

Children have been a rarity on the spacious lawn surrounding the executive mansion since Governor Francis' administration, twenty years ago, and passersby stopped to watch the antics of the little ones.

Governor Hadley himself was an interested onlooker between visits of office seekers who swarmed to the mansion throughout the day. A big delegation came down from Kansas City.

ROANOKE'S ANNIVERSARY

REUNION OF THOSE WHO TOOK PART IN THE CAPTURE OF THE ISLAND.

THIS OCCURRED FORTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO

The Confederates Fled, and Were Pursued About Six Miles by the Federal, of General A. E.
Burnside's Command.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Veterans who participated in the capture of Roanoke island forty-seven years ago today are celebrating the anniversary by a reunion, in which they are living over again the details of the most important federal victory of 1862.

The island was considered impregnable, as the Confederates had strongly fortified it with batteries, which commanded the sound on each side. There was also a fortified camp which extended across a narrow part of the island. The fortifications were garrisoned by North Carolina troops, and mounted forty guns. Above the island was a Confederate flotilla of small gunboats.

Early in 1862 an expedition was fitted out at Hampton Roads for operations against Roanoke island. It was composed of more than 100 war vessels and transports, commanded by Commodore L. M. Goldsborough, and bearing 16,000 troops under General Ambrose E. Burnside.

The fleet left the Roads on January 11. On Feb. 7 Goldsborough opened a bombardment of the works on the island. The first attack was upon Fort Bartow, near the center of Roanoke island.

In a short time there was a general engagement between the fleet and the batteries in Croatan sound, in which the Confederate flotilla participated. These vessels disposed of Goldsborough concentrated his fire on Fort Bartow, three-quarters of a mile distant.

As the fort began to give way, transports were brought up. At midnight, while a cold storm of wind and rain was sweeping over land and water, about 11,000 troops were landed, many of them wading ashore.

At dawn of Feb. 8 this force moved to attack the lines of intrenchments that spanned the island. The Confederates made a gallant defense, going from redoubt to redoubt, as one after another fell into the hands of the federals.

Their last stand was made in a well situated redoubt, approached by a causeway. Finally, it was taken by storm. The Confederates fled and were pursued about six miles when they surrendered. Roanoke island passed into the possession of the federal troops.

THE STORY OF A CONVICT

"NO. 37835" TELLS OF THE FATE OF MISS WILMORE
IN ILLINOIS.

LIFTS CLOUD FROM FORMER ADMIRER

Suspicious Long Hovering Over John Carr Are Shown to Be Baseless By Confession That is Just Made Public.

Benton, Ill., Feb. 8.—A letter from convict No. 37835, Ohio penitentiary, received Saturday by State's Attorney Hickman, of Franklin county, lifted the cloud of suspicion that for thirteen years has hovered over John Carr, a highly respected man of this community, and solved the mystery of the death of Miss Alma Wilmore, of West Franklin, Illinois.

It was August 1, 1896, that Alma Wilmore, a young woman of prominent social standing in West Franklin, disappeared from her home. Her parents knew of no reason why she should have departed, without telling them of her intentions, and as she had no car that they knew of there was only one conclusion to be drawn, and that was murder. There was not a clew. To the police officials it looked as if she had vanished into thin air. Parties searched the surrounding country; creeks were dragged and her description was sent broadcast without result.

Ten days later a party of youths at play while throwing rocks into a cistern discovered an object floating in the water and notified men, who drew out the body. The throat was cut from ear to ear, and there were several bruises on the body. It was easily identified as that of Miss Wilmore.

Investigation showed that the girl had been killed in the woods near by and the body dragged over the rough ground to the cistern and thrown in. While not formally engaged, it was generally believed that Miss Wilmore was to marry a young man of the neighborhood, one John Carr. Naturally, because of the girl's condition, suspicion fastened on him, and while it was of a purely circumstantial nature, and the grand jury found no ground for action, it was with difficulty that he proved to his neighbors his innocence, and since that time until the confession of convict No. 37835 the cloud has remained.

Convict No. 37835, what of him? The books of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus gave his name as C. Clayton, but this is an alias, his real name being Riley Price. He was a native of this (Franklin) county, and had the reputation of being a neighborhood bad man. He is a cripple and a broken man, and his conscience the last few years has hurt him, so recently he requested an interview with the warden and made a confession, which later was sent to State's Attorney Hickman. His confession coincides with the facts in the case, and is generally believed by those who knew about the case. How he obtained his influence over Miss Wilmore can only be explained by him.

The letter accompanying the confession, written on the stationery of the Ohio state penitentiary, to the prosecutor of Franklin county, follows: "It affords me to drop you a few lines repeating my confession I made to the officers of this place it is a grate surprise to al but I field a grate better sense I have released myself of such a lod and I hope god abuv and the pepul of franklin county Will forgiv me for my long criminal life as it is nestely due to the awful crime i did in my younger days as it seemed like after that i caired nothing for myself. now i want the world to no that i am sorry for the affle crime and willing to do the rest of my materl life in the prison for the dead i did and will come back at once and pled guilty to tak life in the pen. Mr hickman you no that men a man or beast is crippled for life and nows he can not out grow it he had just as soon to ded as a live so that is the way i have felt for 12 yrs so that is as much as i cair abot taking about the ded so good by. from riley price."

"back yur male to e clayton no 37835." The prosecuting attorney will begin procedure for the necessary requisition papers upon the governor of Ohio and it is expected Price will be returned here for trial.

DECISIONS "SILLY ROT"

JOHN D. LAWSON CRITICISES THE HIGHER COURTS

DEAN OF THE LAW SCHOOL AT COLUMBIA

Kansas City Lawyers Told by Writer of Law Books What Is Causing Disrespect Throughout the State for the Profession.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8.—The Kansas City Bar association which invited John D. Lawson, dean of the law school of Columbia University, to speak before it Saturday night, heard some things from the distinguished guest that had not been expected. Dr. Lawson is a writer of law books. He cited several decisions of the supreme court of Missouri, saying they were silly rot, the result of adhering to an antiquated practice of reversing cases on technicalities.

"It is natural," Dr. Lawson said, "that the public and the laity have such a marked disrespect for the law. The old respect for the law has disappeared in a very large measure. And it is because our court procedure has become so technical that it results in a failure of justice."

The meeting was attended by the largest crowd that has attended a meeting of the Kansas City Bar association for months. The attorneys were expecting plain talk. Dr. Lawson's criticism of the courts was so searching and pointed that many of the attorneys were surprised.

"I have been reading some of the decisions of the Missouri supreme court," Dr. Lawson said, "and I found such silly stuff as this:

"A jury in the lower court convicted a man of murder in the first degree. The supreme court found that the foreman of the jury wrote 'first' degree murder into the verdict instead of 'first' degree, and reversed the case on that slim technicality."

"In another case the supreme court reversed the jury's conviction because of an error in the indictment. And what was that monumental error? In the indictment the word 'the' was missing. The indictment read: 'Against the peace and dignity of state,' whereas, according to the supreme court, it should have read: 'Against the peace and dignity of the state'."

"Fifty per cent of the cases reversed in the appellate courts are for errors in judicial practice and not because an injustice was done in the trials. The reversals are on technicalities and not on the merits of the cases."

"What other profession or what other trade is in that condition? Suppose that concerts or entertainments had to be repeated because one of the musicians struck a discordant note. What if a factory had to make half of its shoes over again because some workman made a small mistake that resulted in some trivial defect in the product?"

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 8.—While her mother was hurrying with her to the office of Dr. H. B. Erdhaus, No. 1206 Tamm avenue, yesterday morning, to get treatment for a coughing spell, Mary Wilsdon, 3½ months old, child of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilsdon, No. 6426 Wise avenue, died in her arms from strangulation. When Dr. Erdhaus pronounced the child dead the mother carried the lifeless body home.

Little Mary was stricken with a violent cough early yesterday. Home remedies failed of relief, and it was then the mother sought medical aid, little realizing how near death was approaching the infant.

No arrangements will be made for the funeral until after the inquest. Dr. Erdhaus said strangulation caused death.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 8.—The 600 converts last night ran the aggregate for the entire sixteen days of Gipsy Smith's meetings to 4,000. This is the record for all revivals in the history of St. Louis, and has probably not been excelled anywhere in the United States.

Gipsy Smith has preached to 250,000 persons since beginning the St. Louis revival and has converted one out of every sixty-two.

The cost has been approximately $15,000, making each convert represent the expenditure of $3.75.

AFTER THE BEEF TRUST

GRAND JURY IN CHICAGO WILL SUBPOENA PACKING HOUSE COMPANY PEOPLE.

Inquiring Into the Morris Packing Co. Case Hid the Real Purpose of the Federal Authorities, It Is Now Alleged.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 8.—The heavy guns of the federal department of justice were opened upon the "beef trust" when the federal grand jury reconvenes today. The mask of the inquiry into alleged rebating carried on between Morris & Co and the railroads by a system of damage claims, behind which the government has been investigating the existence and operation of a packers' combination will be dropped, and it is said the other big packing concerns will be drawn in.

Within the next few days subpoenas will be issued for officials and employees of Armour & Co., the Schwarzchild & Sulzberger company, and the National Packing company, which, according to government representatives is suspected of being the "go-between" in the fixing of prices and the division of territory in restraint of competition. Individual indictments against the heads of the packing companies are aimed at, and every effort will be made to avoid the "immunity bath" finale which characterized the federal investigation four years ago. Failing in this, a general indictment against each one of the companies will be sought.

District Attorney Edwin W. Sims and Assistant District Attorney Jas. J. Wilkerson returned to Chicago yesterday from a conference with Attorney General Bonaparte in Washington, in which the evidence which thus far has been obtained was carefully reviewed. Officials of the interstate commerce commission also were called in to determine the strength of the government's case. The outcome of the conference was an order to proceed at once to the objective point of the inquiry.

With the return of Mr. Sims and a slight lifting of the curtain of secrecy which hitherto has been carefully maintained, it was learned that behind the phase of the inquiry which has been conducted the deeper investigation, and evidence regarding the government as showing that a "trust" exists has been gathered.

Minor employees and officials of the other big companies already have appeared before the grand jury "behind the back" of the Morris investigation. From these witnesses it has been learned, among other things, that the system of damage claims as maintained by Morris & Co. is a common practice.

With the new maneuver of the government, the federal grand jury will have its work cut out for it for several weeks ahead. It has been the daily report about the federal building, and supported by opinion of Mr. Sims himself, that the investigation would be completed by February 23, when the retrial of the Standard Oil company comes up. But the new phase put upon the investigation by the order of the attorney general probably will extend the session to the end of the month.

District Attorney Sims refused last conference at Washington further night to discuss the outcome of the than to admit that the procedure against the packers will take on new importance.

SEDALIA THEATRE.

"The Cowboy and the Thief." J. Wendell Davis' latest and greatest success, "The Cowboy and the Thief," is written with a vein of comedy running through each scene. The clergy, press and public pronounce it a play among plays. "The Cowboy and the Thief" is very pleasing, fascinating and intense. It has beautiful scenery, is correctly costumed, has gorgeous effects and thrilling situations; a play that has many natural characters, to be presented at the Sedalia theatre Wednesday, Feb. 10.

"Hans Hanson" Coming.

"Hans Hanson," described as one of the most beautiful Swedish comedy dramas on the road, will appear at the Sedalia theatre Friday, Feb. 12. This play contains a story with a good moral, and while it contains many sad instances, still there is enough comedy and specialties introduced to make an evening of thorough enjoyment. The "Hans Hanson" company carries the best band and orchestra of any theatrical organization on the road and will give a free open air concert.

Fun at the Lyric.

The Lyric theater, which has recently changed its performance to vaudeville has an excellent bill this week and played to capacity business yesterday at both matinee and night performances. The bill includes Mr. Charles Schofield, the minstrel man, and his monologue, banjo playing and songs were of the most amusing kind, and the audience was in an uproar from the beginning of his act to the finish. The second act of the bill includes Sperry & Ray in a comedy sketch called "Billy and the Girl" in "Lonesome Junction." This act is especially interesting, as it is entirely out of the ordinary run of sketch teams. There are some very funny situations brought about and also the songs which are used in the act are the kind which hold you to your seat. Miss Ray has a very beautiful silver toned soprano voice, and her rendition of "The Last Rose of Summer" at the finale of the act touches the hearts of everybody. The Lyric management is certainly doing wonders in getting acts for the Sedalia people, and they deserve crowded houses at every performance. This bill will continue all week.

REMARriage SET ASIDE

WOMAN THE EARLY VICTIM OF THE NEW STATUTE IN ILLINOIS.

JUDGE BUTLER REGRETTED IT'S NOT MAN

Ceremony of Divorces Is Declared Void Because One Year Clause Is Ignored—Left in a Bad Predicament.

Duquoin, Ill., Feb. 8.—A unique case in the Southern Illinois courts has just been disposed of by Judge Butler in the Jackson county circuit court.

At the present session of court Judge Butler granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Nettie Louise Smith, at the same time warning her against remarrying within a year.

Ignoring the instructions of the court, she, with A. A. Schatta, American express agent at Murphysboro, went to Paducah, Ky., a few days later, where they were married.

On their return to Murphysboro an attachment was issued by Judge Butler, on which Mrs. Smith was taken into court.

Judge Butler read the section of Illinois law concerning marriage within one year from date of divorce and concluded by declaring her last marriage annulled, void and invalid.

Judge Butler stated that it was the first time he had ever had occasion to act in this manner, and expressed regret that the offender was not a man instead of a woman.

HAS OLD CURRENCY

President Harris of Third National Bank Possesses Great Curiosity.

President H. W. Harris, of the Third National bank, this morning received from his mother in St. Louis an old Continental five dollar bill, which has been in the family for generations.

It is one of the first issued by the Continental congress after the declaration of independence, and was authorized by congress at its meeting in Baltimore, Feb. 16, 1777. It calls for the payment to bearer of five Spanish milled dollars, and is printed on brown paper as heavy as cardboard, with black ink. The work is very crude and could have been easily counterfeited. On one side are two crudely engraved leaves and on the other a peculiar seal. It bears the information that it was "printed by Hall & Sellens, 1777."

Mr. Harris doesn't remember how long the bill has been in his family, but knows that his grandfather in Kentucky possessed it, passing it down to his father and now coming to him. The bill has been much worn through the handling of years and has been framed and covered with glass for preservation.

BRIDES' FAVORITE JUSTICE

And Simply Because He Tabooed That Word "Obey,"

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Would-be brides are buzzing around Justice Max Fred, of St. Charles, like butterflies around an electric lamp.

They don't want to marry him. They want him to marry them. He is a shining light, and in the eyes of the fair sex he has been more dazzling than ever since it became known that he never—positively never—uses the short, ugly word, "Obey," in his marriage ceremony.

"I have been a justice of the peace four years and I have never used the word 'obey,'" he says. "I never will, either, because I regard marriage as a civil contract and I don't think the party of the first part should be required to promise anything that the party of the second part is not equally bound to. A contract should always be perfectly balanced."

as the birds, as frolicsome as the lambs, and as difficult to catch as the rabbits; his companions, his father, brother and sisters, and the grasses and flowers and trees; a boy to grow up with a sympathetic nature—Rodney Smith by name, and as far as we know to spend his days in a gypsy tent.

"Rodney Smith's mother died when he was but a child, and with the smallpox. A sister took down first, and the father pitched his tent near a town so a doctor would be handy, and stationed his wagon down the road about two hundred yards from a hospital, with himself as nurse. Then Ezekiel was smitten. The mother would secure the food, prepare it and place it on the ground near the wagon for her husband to get. One day, in the anxiety and love of her heart, she got too close to her children and was herself smitten. She lingered for a while, a great sufferer, and on one Monday morning died, having claimed a hope in Christ. God bless the boy without a mother.

"My friends, what have we here in Rodney Smith? I'll tell you. We have one of the 'foolish things' of this world." Paul tells us about, one of the "weak things" also, and "things which are not." But a gypsy boy, his father a sinner, his mother dead, and to go to school but six weeks in his life.

"Last week I sat in the large Coliseum in St. Louis, where had gathered at least twelve thousand people, and sat on the platform just back of the speaker a few feet, and witnessed the greatest meeting I was ever in. There were a thousand voices in one grand chorus, and leading business men of the city were in evidence. And the speaker none other than Rodney Smith, the gypsy boy of a quarter of a century ago, of six weeks in school, the child of simple nature and motherless. Think of it, from a gypsy tent in the British Isles to the American platform, swaying his thousands by his eloquence, confounding the wise of this world and the mighty and bringing to 'naught things that are.' Callous business men and lawyers and doctors, refined professors and learned theologians listening in almost breathless silence, and lost men almost rushing forward for salvation. 'Behold, what God hath wrought,' and this, my friends, is the great message Gypsy Smith brings to us.

"But six weeks in school, when he was converted at the age of 16 he could only spell and understand words of one syllable. But he was anxious to learn. His first books were the Bible, an English dictionary and a dictionary of the Bible. Later he possessed other works, of course of a religious nature, and still later tasted of the writings of Scott, Dickens, Tennyson, Byron, Longfellow and others. He read for two things, 'ideas' and a better grip of the English language. His language is pure and interesting. G. Campbell Morgan says, 'It is possible to hear him again and again, as I have done often, without detecting a flaw in his grammar or pronunciation.'

"Gypsy Smith's voice is soft and musical, strong and clear, and full of pathos. He is a fine singer, and takes charge of the singing in his meetings. The Gospel he preaches is the suffering Son of God. He strikes for men's wills and hearts, and is often dramatic in his appeals. Pittsburg, Feb. 8.—Many persons gathered in the vicinity of the East End police station this morning, believing that James Dickinson, the negro arrested Saturday night for insulting a white woman and who narrowly escaped being lynched by an infuriated crowd, would be given a hearing.

and to go into the inquiry room. He has always done the work of an evangelist. This is probably the sixth time he has been in America. Although a gypsy his mission has been to the large centers of population.

"From the gypsy tent to the American platform is a long step, my friends, and one which seldom happens, but thank God, it happens. In Gypsy Smith's life it happened because he stood aside and gave God the right of way. He gave God a chance and is giving Him a chance today. Flesh does not glory in the sight of God when it comes to Him. And here is the lesson for you and me. It is even marvelous what God can do with a boy or man who surrenders to him. Are you surrendered? If not, I plead with you to surrender to God now and let Him use you to confound the wise and mighty of this world."

After the sermon the offering for ministerial education was continued, amounting to something like $125. One bright boy was baptized. In the morning 261 were in the Sunday school.

THE WORLD-TOUR'S COST

MAMMOTH FLEET OF BULLDOGS OF THE OCEAN NOW AT GIBRALTAR.

BEGIN THE FINAL LAP OF TRIP THIS WEEK

The Journey Across the Atlantic to Be Marked by Races and Maneuvers on Scale Never Before Attempted.

Washington, Feb. 8.—This week the mammoth fleet of ocean bulldogs that have gathered at Gibraltar will begin with the final lap of the world tour, which will end with the final entry of the fleet into Hampton Roads fourteen days hence. The trip across the Atlantic will be marked by maneuvers and races seldom before attempted by the ships of the navy, and which are expected to demonstrate that the fleet of Uncle Sam is in as good condition for a "fight or a frolic" as when it sailed out of Hampton Roads with "Fighting Bob" Evans in command.

The return of the vessels to American waters, after their record-smashing cruise, will be a momentous episode and will add a final sun-burst of glory to the administration of President Roosevelt, whose active brain devised the details of the grand adventure.

Meanwhile some carping persons have begun to count the cost of the cruise, and the figures they present are staggering in their immensity. It is declared, and these are apparently among the figures that do not belong to the Ananias club, that the world cruise at its completion on Feb. 22, will have cost no less than $27,500, 000. When the ships have entered Hampton Roads they will have burned up that amount, a fortune vanished in the air with the smoke from the funnels of Admiral Sperry's sixteen bulldogs and the auxiliaries accompanying them. Careful estimates show that it costs about $17,107,000 to maintain the fleet, and that the maintenance charge on account of the auxiliaries is not less than $5, 000,000. The ships will be gone for substantially one and a fourth years.
In round numbers, therefore, the cost will be substantially $27,500,000.

The estimate as to the cost of the cruise does not include charges that could reasonably be put to the maintenance account. To make the cost appear just as it should would necessitate an estimate to be made of the proportionate share each ship should have of the whole expense of having and maintaining a navy. Under such a system of accounting the cost would probably run well onto $60,000,000, because the fleet constitutes nearly two-thirds of the entire navy. It embraces more than two-thirds of the real fighting strength of the navy, but there is a good deal of ineffective material in the establishment to which a careful accounting officer would assign considerable of the cost.

The cost of maintenance, according to the classes of ships that comprise the armada, is as follows:

Larger battleships, $3,767,125; the medium sized battleships, $2,245, 315; larger sized armored cruisers, $2,935,236; larger sized protected cruisers, $1,485,000; medium sized cruisers, $295,000; gunboats, $175, 000. These figures make the total $17,102,676.

The estimate of $14,544,500 for repairs to a number of ships is called a routine thing by the officers on duty at the bureau of construction and repair. They made it, not because the ships are in need of extraordinary repairs, but simply because nearly all of them need new boilers.

No ship can have a new set of boilers without congress first making provision for it. Boilers for a battleship cost considerably more than $200, 000. It costs fully $100,000 more to put them in. The law says that not more than $200,000 shall be spent on a ship without a specific appropriation.
It also says that no expenditure shall be made amounting to more than 20 per cent of what it would cost to build a new ship of similar design.

That 20 per cent restriction makes it necessary for the department to tell congress every time it finds it necessary to put new boilers in a tug, because they are the most expensive part of a tug.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are first out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., take, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

MINISTER SLAIN IN GROVE

Reward for Apprehension of Rev. W.
T. Hudson's Murderer.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 8.—Governor Noel has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the mur-derer of Rev. W. T. Hudson, a Baptist minister of Houston.

As was his custom on Saturday afternoons, the minister repaired to a grove near town to rehearse his sermon for Sunday.

His body was found in a pond. He had been killed with a shotgun. No cause can be assigned for the murder.

C. R. Kluger, the Jeweler, 1050 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes:
"I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day, and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed."

GABFEST THIS EVENING

THE "UNWRITTEN LAW" WILL BE THE SUBJECT UP FOR DISCUSSION.

SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE HAINS CASE

Program Arranged By the "Sunrise" Club, a Famous Dining and Debating Society—Score or So of Debates.

New York, Feb. 8.—The Sunrise club, Gotham's famous dining and debating organization, whose members at their last banquet voiced the bitter cry of the married and thereby gained yards of space in all metropolitan newspapers, will again burst into the light tonight.

At this evening's gabfest at the Cafe Boulevard the topic of after-dinner discussion will have to do with the so-called "unwritten law," with special reference to the Hains case.

That some of the Sunrises are even more opposed to the "unwritten" than the written law is evidenced by the fact that Chairman Walker has chosen for the general title of the discussion, "Our Imminent Reversion to Barbarism."

James F. Morton, jr., who is a lawyer by day and a philosophic anarchist by night, and a grandson of Francis Scott Key, will touch off the big piece of the oratorical fireworks, and a score or so of other debaters, all holding diverse opinions, will add to the sweetness and light of the occasion.

Although there is every reason to believe that Mr. Morton will jump on the "unwritten law" with both feet, and cause it to wither away under the fiery blast of his red-headed oratory, it is promised that there will be something doing when the defenders of statutes not included in the books un-limber their guns.

Altogether, it is evident that an interesting night is ahead of the Sunrises, and every newspaper in New York will have reporters present to carefully and painstakingly report everything that isn't said.

Startling Embroidery Sale.

In order to give space to a new department which we wish to install, we have decided to close out our entire stock of embroidery and laces, and in order to make a quick sale, we have decided to give one-third off (1-3) on our entire stock amounting to over one thousand dollars.

This is an exceptionally good chance to secure great bargains, as our stock is already marked at a low
them less than any competition could dare offer the same goods for.

This applies to laces and embroideries only.

Stock on sale now.

THE LOG CABIN OF GRANT

Augustus Busch Restores St. Louis County Home.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Augustus A. Busch, who recently purchased the old home of Ulysses S. Grant, on the Gravois road, St. Louis county, and known throughout the country as the "Grant farm," has converted it into a model game preserve.

With the farm, the millionaire brewer has purchased the old home of the general, the famous Grant log cabin in which after being knocked down and carried around the country for exhibition, has been returned to its former site and occupies a position on the farm overlooking the Gravois road. It will be thrown open to the public as a museum.

It is the intention of Mr. Busch to collect as many Grant relics as possible and restore them to the cabin. The cabin itself is intact and just as General Grant left it, except that a few logs have been cut out of an inside partition.

A board, lettered in gold, hanging in this place, admonishes the reader: "The logs removed from this wall were used in framing the resolutions of the St. Louis Library association tendered to Andrew Carnegie, Esq., as a testimonial of their appreciation for his generous donation of one million dollars."

The old "spring house," where the general kept his butter, eggs, milk and, it is rumored, his liquor, which was said to be the best to be found in the state, has been preserved in its entirety.

A fence of musket barrels which saw service during the civil war surrounds the cabin. A veteran who served under Grant is care-taker at the cabin.

At the right of the cabin and a short distance away stands the former home of Mrs. Grant, a two-story stone house, typical of that period. The large barns and other buildings erected later under the personal supervision of General Grant are intact.

A WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Cleveland, With 15,000 Victims of Plague, Is Aroused.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 8.—The city of Cleveland, in common with several other of the larger municipalities of the country, has determined systematically to fight tuberculosis and will hereafter treat and look upon it officially as a dangerous, fatal and contagious disease that must be stamped out as would be done in the case of smallpox epidemic.

It is estimated that there are 15,000 persons in the city suffering from the disease. When this situation was carried to the city officials, Rev. Harris R. Cooley, member of the board of public service, who has charge of the department of charities and correction, agitated the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium. This has been decided upon.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD

Mystery in Demise of Mrs. Charles Coons After a Dance.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Charles Coons was found dead at an early hour Sunday morning in a coal house in the rear of the residence of Mrs. Gussie Wagner. Rudy Wagner, son of Mrs. Gussie Wagner, is held by the police, pending further inquiry into the case. Near the body was a cup containing some liquid, but the nature of this liquid has not been ascertained.

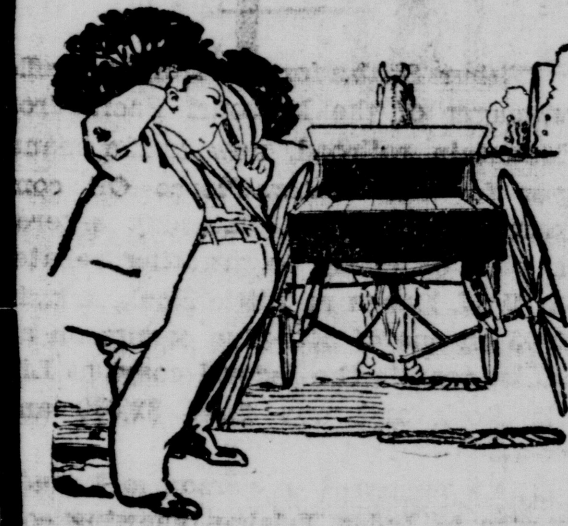

Mrs. Coons was at a dance at which Wagner was furnishing the music by means of an accordion. About 1 o'clock Mrs. Coons complained of feeling ill and lay down until the dance was over, about 1:30. Her husband had gone home early in the evening and her son departed about midnight.

When the dance broke up Wagner offered to accompany her home, and they are said to have left the scene of dance together. So far as the authorities can learn this was the last time she was seen alive by any one except Wagner. The Wagner home is next door to the Coons home. Wagner says he left her on the corner by her own home.

FINDS SON LOST 18 YEARS

Father Lived Only a Block Away, but Didn't Know.

Muskogee, Ok., Feb. 8.—Eighteen years ago Milo B. Terry, of Des Moines, Ia., kissed his two little boys, Milo and Clement, 5 and 3 years old, goodby and sent them to relatives in Missouri to save them from a plague of typhoid fever which had invaded his home, claiming six of his twelve children.

The father himself was stricken with fever, and when he recovered after weeks of illness all trace was lost of the two boys.

Mr. Terry, now an elderly man, here yesterday saw the name of Milo B. Terry signed to a petition, and, going to the residence, found the young man was his son, for whom he had been searching. For the last seven months father and son lived within a block of each other in the Midland Valley addition here.

The elder Terry is in the grocery business in Muskogee. Milo Terry is an employe of the Midland Valley railroad. The elder Terry will reside with his son's family.

Pistol, Shotgun and Rifle Used in Quarrel Over Fence.

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 8.—As a direct result of a pistol, shotgun and rifle battle between J. R. Riddle, E. A. Hurt and Lee West at Ash Grove last Monday the three men have been arrested, Hurt and West on charges of felonious assault and Riddle on charges of killing George W. Mullins. The three men were released on bond. Riddle killed Mullins on December 20, 1907, and the coroner's jury fixed no blame.

Riddle and Hurt disagreed over a partition fence last Monday and exchanged pistol shots. Later Hurt, armed with a repeating rifle, and Riddle, with a shotgun, renewed the battle, each standing behind a tree on his own lawn. West, a son-in-law of Riddle, opened cross fire on Hurt with a shotgun, having stationed himself in a barn nearby.

One charge of shot barked the tree behind which Hurt was standing, tearing away part of his clothing and inflicting a slight flesh wound on his abdomen. No other injury was done and the men ceased firing after they had exhausted their ammunition.

DANCE IN THE CHURCH

This Is Urged by the Wife of a Chicago Professor.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—"Tear up the carpets from the church floors and invite the young people into those church parlors to dance, to tryst and to hold their club meetings. Then they will not go to places that are not respectable."

This is the advice of Mrs. W. N. Thomas, wife of a professor of sociology at the University of Chicago, given at the opening of the three days' celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Chicago Home for the Friendless.

Continuing her advice as to how to prevent children from becoming friendless, Mrs. Thomas, herself the superintendent of the Juvenile Protective league, said:

"If we could realize in the schools that somebody has rights besides the janitor, we should also be a long way toward doing away with delinquent children."

A FORMER TRAFFIC CHIEF OF MISSOURI PACIFIC IS FINED $2,500.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Wilbur Stith, former freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain railroad, now traffic manager for the Waters-Pierce Oil company, of St. Louis, Saturday entered a plea of guilty to granting rebates to T. H. Bunch at Little Rock, Ark., in 1905 on one of fifty-nine counts on an indictment in the federal court at Little Rock and was fined $2,500 and costs.

Stith appeared in person and made a plea to Judge Trieber, showing correspondence to sustain his contention that he merely acted under instructions from superiors. He said he strenuously objected to the practice, but had to obey instructions in order to hold his position and support those dependent upon him.

Judge Trieber assessed the fine, and Mr. Stith explained that he was the one who had to pay the fine, and his means were limited. Mr. Stith was given thirty days to raise the money.

The Carrying of Explosives.

John M. Scott, of this city, traveling representative for the American Railway association, has received circular notice from the management of the association reciting the law covering the transportation of articles containing explosives as baggage.

The notice was issued following the accidental explosion of a parcel sent as baggage, which contained explosives, being sent by a foreigner unacquainted with the law covering the same.

The maximum punishment for violations of this law is a fine of $2,000 or a jail sentence of eighteen months, or both, according to the discretion of the judge.

Held for $50,000 Theft.

A special to the Helena Record from Livingston, Mont., says that a theft, said to involve $50,000, has been discovered in that city and that a large number of conductors, brakemen, engineers and firemen of the Northern Pacific are involved. A great quantity of the alleged stolen goods has been found in a cellar.

It is said that the thieving operations have been going on for some time and that the Northern Pacific has had a large force of detectives at work on the case, with the result that many arrests are expected in the immediate future.

He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS.

Two bills of great interest to the citizens of the state were introduced in the general assembly the first day that this order of business was reached. One was the "Pemberton-Grimes" county unit law introduced by Mr. Pemberton in the house and Senator Grimes in the senate. This bill simply amends the present county option law and permits the counties to vote on the dramsop question as a unit, not excepting cities of 2,500 and more as is now the case. The other is the Residence District measure introduced in the senate by Senator McDavid, of Springfield and in the house by Representative Calkins, of Crawford county. This bill, if it passes, will give the voters of residence sections of the large cities the right to vote the saloons out of these sections when the majority so desire. It is understood that the Missouri Anti-Saloon League indorses both measures. The non-partisan character of the bill is indicated by the fact that Senator McDavid and Representative Pemberton are democrats, while Senator Grimes and Representative Calkins are republicans.

Pulled Off—Arrest Made in New York City.

New York, Feb. 8.—John R. Dobbins, also known as N. J. Glover, who is wanted in Princeton, Mo., on a charge of participating in a $30,000 racing swindle of which Banker Bellevue was the victim, and whose wife pulled a revolver on two detectives Saturday when they went to arrest him at 10 West Ninety-eighth street, was arraigned Sunday before Magistrate Kotel in the Tombs police court and held for forty-eight hours to await extradition. His bail was fixed at $5,000, in default of which he was sent to the Tombs prison. In court Dobbins had nothing to say.

Mrs. Dobbins and James Lamplins, who said he was a partner of Dobbins in a billiard room 236 West One Hundred and Sixteenth street, were discharged, as there were no requests for their arrests.

The police heard Sunday from Missouri that an officer was on the way for Dobbins. Dobbins will fight extradition.

Preparing Extradition Papers.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 8.—Dobbins extradition will be asked from Council Bluffs, Ia., where the fake race was pulled off. The papers probably will be issued today. A Council Bluffs attorney has wired enough facts to the New York inspector of detectives so that Dobbins will be held on a fugitive warrant until requisition papers arrive.

To Confer With Friends Regarding Local Appointments.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Governor Herbert S. Hadley arrived in St. Louis at 10:40 last night, twenty-four hours earlier than the time announced, to confer with his St. Louis friends concerning the appointment of St. Louis excise, police and election commissioners.

He said at the Union station that he had not yet decided definitely upon any of the appointments.

"I certainly shall not appoint any one until I am satisfied of the efficiency and capability of the men for the positions," he added. "I probably will be in St. Louis two or three days."

No one was at Union station or at the Hotel Jefferson to meet him. He and General Rumbold immediately retired and left instructions not to be disturbed.
